We also wish to thank Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. T. S. Hughes and Mrs. L. F. Hamilton for the sympathetic music rendered by them at the Funeral service.

Our thanks for the many beautiful floral tributes sent by friends, to Mr. and Mrs. F. Knight, Calgary, for the hospitality of their home during the anxious days of illness, to our neighbors the pall bearers, and to Jacques Funeral Home who conducted everything with quiet dignity.

THE NATIONS DANCE FOR JIMMY GOWLER

When not otherwise engaged, Jimmy Gowler, youthful Winnipeg musician and orchestra leader, spends most of his waking hours chasing tunes. He chases them through Winnipeg's crowded cosmopolitan streets, and through rural Manitoba when the opportunity offers. In some towns or country home, some farmer or town-dweller from Russia, or Czechoslovakia, or Norway, or Sweden, or Denmark, hums over a folk-dance remembered from his lightfooted youth, and Jimmy, with a stub pencil and the back of an envelope, jots it down. A week or so later you hear it on CBC's "Dances of the Nations" (Saturdays, at 10:30 pm MDT). A few days ago some of Winnipeg's lovely young dancers from several national groups came down to the CBC studios during rehearsal to show Jimmy how the dances really went. Here they are: Miss Gladys Pundtyk, in Polish costume, is demonstrating a polonaise, while standing by and clapping hands to the gay music are Miss Marion Kummén of Norway, and Miss Greta Hammenstrand, of Sweden. Miss Kummén is the daughter of Mr. C. T. Kummén, Winnipeg's Norwegian consul. The costumes worn by the young ladies are not only complete and authentic, but extremely valuable and—at present—"Dances of the Nations" (Saturdays, almost irreplaceable.

PLEASE NOTE

APPROVED BY THE KING

An Army flying Badge to be worn by qualified air observation pilots and gliders, has been approved by the King. On a black background is a pair of blue wings with the royal crest superimposed in the centre.

NOT HER CEILING

Office of price administration regulations on price ceilings presented a department store at Ashbury Park, N. J., with a delicate problem. A customer, whose account is highly valued returned a purchase and interrupted the salesman's assurance that it was the floor mop she had ordered. "Why, it has 'ceiling' stamped right here on the ticket," she said.

THE OUT-SIDE

UNIVERSITY VISITORS' WEEK—

The week of July 27th to August 1st has been chosen for the first of what is hoped to become an annual event at the University of Alberta—visitors' week at the department of field crops. In the past the University has had visits from various farm organizations and from individuals who were interested in looking over field crops, but such visits have often been made when the experimental material was not at its best. This year the University has selected the week of July 27th to August 1st during which it is expected this material will be of its greatest value for demonstration purposes.

As individuals, or members of organizations in any way interested in field crops, all are cordially invited to attend this visitors' week.

BRITISH SUPPLY THEIR OWN VEGETABLES—

Prior to the start of the war Great Britain imported a million tons of vegetables a year. Now the entire supply of green vegetables is being grown at home.

Britain, with a population of 648 persons to the square mile, is now feeding more individuals in proportion to its area than any other country in the world.

THE WHEAT AGREEMENT—

Western Daily newspapers for the most part have expressed approval of the new wheat agreement as announced from Washington and Ottawa last week. This is a decided change from the attitude of these same newspapers nearly ten years ago when the first international wheat agreement was consummated. At that time general disapproval was voiced.

The western Wheat Pools have supported the wheat agreement from the very start. This approval was based on the belief that no other course could be followed to maintain international wheat prices at decent levels just so long as nations maintained tariffs and similar protective devices.

REWARD OF CLEAN LIVING—

A motorist last crashed into a telegraph pole. Wire, pole and everything came down around his ears. They found him unconscious in the wreckage, but as they untangled him he reached out feebly and fingered the wires and murmured:

"Thank heaven I lived clean; they've given me a harp."

BEEF PRICES TO BE REDUCED—

Beef prices are coming down. On Monday, July 13, a cut of one cent per pound wholesale, and retail for beef will come into effect under the scale worked out by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

ANOTHER BONUS ON BUTTERFAT—

The Federal Government has announced recently and put into effect a six cents per pound bonus on butterfat. This has been welcomed heartily by all who produce cream for butter-making.

AFTER THE ROOSEVELT-CHURCHILL CONFERENCES

by Roscoe Drummond

Have no doubt about it, the Roosevelt-Churchill conferences were extremely productive. One testimony to that fact is the absence of news in the carefully prepared joint statement which they issued over the weekend. If the president and the Prime Minister had been talking big there would be reason for gloom. When important action is agreed upon, news will be scarce. News was scarce in the final Roosevelt-Churchill communique.

It was realistic, unboastful, confident and significantly uninformative. Because their summary statement was all of these things, Mr. Churchill's third wartime trip across the Atlantic can be put down as successful. Viewed in the environment of related developments, the Anglo-American consultations leave in their wakes the following main conclusions:

New and basic decisions on United Nations strategy for the next four months were reached by the President and the Prime Minister and their combined chiefs of staff. These strategic decisions rest on two agreed promises. One is that the United States must and can achieve an effective concentration—as opposed to dispersal—of striking power within the next few months or sooner. The other, which is a reaffirmation, is that Nazi Germany represents the major, immediate menace to the United Nations and that offensive action must be directed first against the European continent.

The still prevailing and will-not-down judgment is that a second front will be opened on the continent within the next two months. Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill guaranteed that coming operations will divert Nazi power from the attack on Russia. This in itself, does not promise a second front in 1942—to use the date mentioned in the earlier Roosevelt-Molotov communique. It could mean intensified, sustained, four-figure, Anglo-American air raids over Germany; it could mean a series of lesser fronts against the Nazis, as Harry Hopkins said last week. But the judgment of many informed observers in the Capital is that the United States mechanized infantry will see action in Europe this summer.

The Roosevelt-Churchill statement is constructively vague on this point. A Berlin propaganda radiocast complained because the President and Prime Minister furnished no details of their invasion plans. The joint statement spoke the louder because it was planissimo on such details as to where, when and how.

But the preparations continue, preparations which have only one meaning and purpose. While Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt were planning the "coming operations which . . . will divert German strength from the attack on Russia," the War Department apparently broke in with the announcement of the formal establishment of a "European theater of operations for United States forces." These developments don't say when, but they say something.

Russia was an articulate and prime participant in nearly all of last week's White House conferences. Nominally these consultations were between Mr. Churchill, Mr. Roosevelt and their immediate military aides—and were so described when they first began. But it now develops, Ambassador Litvinov was in on them from the start and the decisions were not Anglo-American decisions but Russo-Anglo-American decisions—all of which underlines how fully these countries are now bound to gether in common alliance.

A healthy feature of the Roosevelt-Churchill statement was its restraint and its emphasis upon the magnitude of the task ahead. Sound optimism springs better from acts than from words. It is well, then, that the statement took "full cognizance of our disadvantages as well as our advantages." They did not, they assured the American and British people, "understate the task." They "conducted their conferences with the full knowledge of the power and resourcefulness of our enemies."

They also touched upon—and in their conferences dealt at length with—the weakest spot in the whole United Nations position. That weak spot is the continuing shortage of shipping and unchecked successes of the Nazi submarines in the Atlantic.

The problem is more desperately acute than is yet being allowed to appear in the judgment of many who can be expected to know. There is reason to believe that the full depredations of the U-boat campaign are being held back and the Roosevelt-Churchill statement seemed excessively coy on this point. It is said that while Axis submarine warfare continues to take a heavy toll of cargo ships, production is increasing month by month. But so, it would appear, are the sinkings; and the losses are continuing to outstrip production. The full truth needs to come out because this is not a professionals' war; this is a people's war.

The president and the Prime Minister saw the over-all picture as more favorable than when they met as belligerent and neutral last August and as co-belligerents last December. Two belligerents are better than one and these belligerents are in "heartly and detailed agreement."

Christian Science Monitor.

French saboteurs apparently do not fool. When they wanted to get Radio Paris, the German propaganda outlet, off the air, they didn't turn it off—they blew it up.

WORSE THAN BOMBS

You can't frighten fifty Mayfair business girls, members of the Women's Home Defence Corps, with live bombs. But mice are different. The girls got on fine at handling a live bomb during a drill but when a cat gate-crashed the lecture with a live mouse in its mouth these "commando girls" leaped screaming into their chairs.

F. W. GERSHAW
WRITES FROM OTTAWA

The problem of Beef cattle prices has been a difficult one for the War Time Prices and Trade Board. At times the supply has been very low but this week there were so many cattle on the market that some were unsold. The price dropped from $1 to $1.50 at Toronto. Weighty steers closed at from $11 to $12 per cwt. At Montreal good steers sold at $12.50 and in the Maritimes, good to choice steers sold at from $10.25 to $11.50. Export to U.S.A. from January 1st to July 2nd were 99,446 as compared with 53,147 last year for the corresponding time.

Hogs were firmer as Canada still supplies ten million to Britain a week. The procuring of a good quota in the American Cattle market was the end of a long hard struggle and the Government is determined that it shall not be lost. To place an embargo on the exporting of beef cattle to U.S.A. would be to endanger this market which has been the chief factor in the improved prices of recent times. Instead of supplying the shortage of meat by stopping exports the board decided to set up the Wartime Food Corporation. Canada has been divided into fifteen districts and there is a representative of this board in each district. Cattle which are likely to be exported are subject to purchase by this Board and while the U.S.A. quota remains unfilled, the price paid must be equal to the U.S.A. price.

Every person expecting to export Beef must apply to the Board for a license and must get written permission to export.

In this procedure seasonal increases from November to of a further cent on August 3 and August 24 and one half a cent on September 14. ## What Think You?

One member made a plea for a Canadian born boy of Japanese origin. This boy graduated in Arts winning several prizes. He then took a law course and won the highest honors. The dean of the Law school gave him a letter saying he was able, industrious and of good character. In April, 1942, he applied for admission to the bar of Nova Scotia. The Council of the Bar Society held several meetings and finally decided that it would be unwise for this young man to be presented to the court for admission at the present time. Was the member right or was the decision of the Law Society right?

CANADA NEEDS MORE WOOL

According to the Bureau of Statistics 115 million pounds of wool were consumed in Canada last year. We in Canada produced only 19 million pounds of that amount. The balance came from New Zealand or Australia as raw wool, or from Britain as manufactured woolen goods. Canada's prairies and farm lands offer ideal grazing grounds for sheep.

To have to bring wool to Canada over 7,000 miles of ocean seems an absurd condition. With the increasing demand for wool this should offer a good opportunity for farmers who are being compelled to reduce their wheat acreage. Attractive guaranteed prices for wool have been set, to encourage increased production of this much needed war commodity—wool. Here is an open door to a paying profession for the farmer.

The first cost of wire fencing the pasture is high but not more so than the combine required to cut the wheat.

SPIRITUAL VALUES

THROUGH the co-operative movement Alberta farmers seek to secure a more efficient system of production and distribution, and a more equitable allocation of benefits. Their aim is economic democracy on the lines of liberty, equality and fraternity.

Farmers, who usually look upon co-operative organizations, such as the Alberta Wheat POOL, as one of several competitive factors for the disposal of their products, fall far short of grasping even a rudimentary understanding of the agricultural co-operative.

One must understand and appreciate the meaning of liberty, equality and fraternity in order to grasp the full significance of co-operative enterprise. There are spiritual values involved therein which cannot be measured in dollars and cents.

COL. DREW AND THE
HONG KONG ENQUIRY

The "righteous indignation" of the people of Canada was keenly stirred when at first it was learned the hearings of the Lyman Duff Committee were to be conducted behind "closed doors." Canada is a free Country with the rights of its citizens as one of our chief planks in the platform.

Who then has a greater right to know the details than the fathers and mothers of the boys and men who went to Hong Kong to do their bit to suppress the outbreak.

A flood of criticism from both radio and press reached the Minister of Justice for an open hearing. Since then the trial has been cancelled, as it is an established ruling that public discussion cannot be carried on while a "case" is still before the courts.

There are questions which necessarily must be discussed in secret, but one which so closely touches the heart of the people of Canada, we feel the findings should be open. Only this is in keeping with a Canadian idea of Justice and Fair Play.

COTTON MULTIPLIES
ELEVEN TIMES

The extent to which some large business firms in Canada have thrown themselves into the war effort is indicated by comparative figures released here today by Dominion Textile Company Limited.

The information shows that the cotton textile industry of Canada is already 11 times ahead of its 1914-1918 war production records.

At present it is estimated that 215 million yards of direct war products and other essential materials are turned out by the industry in a year's time. Among other items are anti-gas cloth, aircraft fabric, camouflage cloth and netting, tire fabrics for army equip-

The Airmen's Tribute To The Men In Battle Dress

For you, our pals in battle-dress,
 It's time to take a bow;
 We'll tell the world, in this man's war,
 You've done a job—and how!
 It hasn't been an easy job;
 As we who've watched you know—
 Nor have you shared our luck as yet
 Your stuff in full to show.
 You've had to work like Hell and wait
 For two long years and more
 Nor has Publicity's acclaim
 Held much for you in store;
 But when your time comes, as it must
 By all the Gods of War,
 The Hun will find out to his cost
 What you've been waiting for!

On you our pals in battle-dress,
 We airmen must depend—
 For what it takes us to begin,
 It's up to you to end!
 Your tanks and your artillery,
 Your armored cars and guns
 Will clear the earth, as we the sky,
 Of Hitler and his Huns.
 And every bomb we drop is just
 A warning in advance
 That he who lost his shirt to us,
 To you will lose his pants!
 While you who bear the torch aloft
 May play the opening role,
 The Cause of Freedom in your hands
 Will reach its final goal.

To all our pals in battle-dress
 From us in air force blue,
 Here's luck and best of hunting
 To the last man jack of you!
 The way things look to us right now,
 It won't be very long
 Before, in person, you'll collect
 For comrades of Fong-Kong!
 For every khaki-clad Canuck
 Who made the sacrifice,
 The Prince of Darkness and his friends
 Will pay a bitter price—
 A bogus and a busted seer
 Will finally confess
 "I might have licked the world, but for These men in battle-dress."

CANADIAN BOMBERS BOUND FOR RENDEZVOUS WITH ENEMY

Rolling off the assembly line in a Canadian Aircraft plant, these twin engine Bombarco bombers are moving swiftly toward a rendezvous with the enemy. Production of bombers, fighting and training aircraft in Canada has grown to impressive proportions since the early days of the war when the Canadian aircraft industry was in pioneer stage. Canadians workmen are turning out five types of training planes, supplying the vast British Commonwealth Air Training Plan; two types of service planes, which are regarded as first class fighting machines, and the link trainer for preliminary ground instruction.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Rasmussen celebrated their 25th wedding Anniversary by holding open house at their home in Standard, on Saturday, July 4th. Many guests called during the day to extend their good wishes. Mr. and Mrs. Rasmussen were the recipients of many lovely gifts on this occasion. On Wednesday, the community entertained in their honor at a large banquet presided over by Mr. C. P. Dahl held in the basement of the Danish Lutheran Church, where Mr. J. P. Madsen, on behalf of the community presented them with a lovely chest of silver. An interesting program consisting of speeches and songs was enjoyed by all.

LETTER FROM STRATHMORE BOY

2-Lt. T. Glendinning,
No. 3 Detachment R.C.A.P.C.
M.D. NO. 3
Kingston, Ont.

Dear Mrs. Moore:

Just a line thanking you again for the Standard, also advising you of change of address and also change of status in the army.

I joined the Army as a private on March 29th, 1941, and was attached to District Paymaster's Office in Calgary for instructions. On June 3rd, 1941, I was transferred to the 6th Field Pk. Sqdn. R.C.E. at Lethbridge, Alberta, a newly mobilized unit and was given the rank of Sergeant as clerk in charge of Orderly Room and Pay. On August 18th the unit was transferred to Petawawa, Ont., and on January of this year, to Debent, N. S. I was recommended for a commission in April and was granted a vacancy at O.T.C. Brockville commencing June 9th. I

ROCKYFORD

—By K. M. G.—

The meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Red Cross met at the hall on Tuesday afternoon, July 7th, and took the form of a quilting bee to finish quilts for the Red Cross. Two crib quilts and one large sized one were completed. Mrs. J. Cammaert and Mrs. R. Bragg served a very nice war time lunch. Meetings during the hot weather will be held in the hall, and on August 4th Mrs. McLuhan will be hostess.

Mr. Batdorf has had his father visiting with him for about 10 days. He returned to Turner Valley on Thursday last.

The regular meeting of the Ladies Aid Society of the United Church was held at the church parlors on Thursday, July 9th. The special business of the day was final arrangements for the Ice Cream Social which is to be held at the church grounds on Wednesday, July 15th. Softball games and other entertainment was arranged. At the social hour for the day Mrs. Allen the hostess served a very tastefully wartime lunch.

Mr and Mrs Easton, Sr. visited last week with their son here who is the Calgary Power maintainer at this division.

The unusual weather of the last week has brought disaster to many crops west and south of Rockyford. There is a strip of farms where all crops are wiped out entirely and many more with different degrees of damage from the storm of Wednesday evening. Hall again visited Sunday but this was not of such a damaging nature, although the deluge of rain was hard on roads and the wind broke many trees down.

A great many of the people from this district took in the Calgary Stampede at some time during the week. However, those leaving their trip till the end of the week did not fare so well and were unable to get home again for a few days owing to the heavy rains.

Mr. and Mrs. Halpin and Edmond have just returned from a short summer holiday. The man from Gleichen Bank relieved Mr. Halpin here.

The annual Field Day of the District experimental sub-station on the farm of Mr. Geo. Kennedy is being held on Thursday, July 16 at 2 p.m.

PURE STOCKS OF CEREAL SEEDS

The most important event, each year, connected with the production of pure seed, is the annual meeting of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association. This was held during the third week in June at Olds, Alberta. Prominent seed growers from all over Canada were gathered in the Provincial School of Agriculture and Home Economics to discuss ways and means of maintaining and improving the quality of Canadian seeds. No one could attend these meetings without wondering what would happen to the yield and quality of our field crops were it not for the efforts of a comparatively small group of hard-working seed growers.

Regulations governing the production of Registered seed are made by the Canadian Seed Growers' Association. Field and seed inspection, essential to the accuracy of pedigree and observance of purity standards, are the responsibility of the Plant Products Division, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

The various terms applied to the different types of seeds are confusing to many farmers. Actually they need not be. By purchasing Registered seed, the farmer can be assured of pedigree and performance. This is all he desires when buying a pure-bred bull or boar.

We cannot avoid the use of terms such as Foundation seed, Elite seed, Registered seed and Certified seed. Hitherto we have had First Generation Registered, 2nd, 3rd, 4th Generations, and so on. Each year, the seed is one more year removed from Elite, which produces First Generation Registered. However, the standards of purity are the same for all generations, so as long as a stock will pass field and seed inspection it might as well be just "Registered." At the Olds meeting it was decided to adopt this practice; namely, to have "First Generation Registered" and, thereafter, "Registered." This decision, however, was by no means unanimous.

AIR FORCE NOTES

R.C.A.F. RECRUITS

Important changes in the training and designation of Royal Canadian Air Force aircrews is indicated by recent instructions from Air Force Headquarters as received at the Calgary recruiting centre wherein several new branches of aircrew duties has been announced. Henceforth in addition to the established categories of Pilots, Air Observers, and Wireless Operators (Air Gunners), there has been added those of Air Navigators, Air Bombers and Air Gunners.

Under the new plan, candidates will be enlisted in three aircrew divisions. Those who will proceed from the Manning Depots and customary tarmac duty must have Junior Matriculation or its equivalent through academic training under the War Emergency Training Plan and will graduate from Initial Training School as potential Air Observers, Pilots, Air Navigators or Air Bombers. The second class are those selected for training as Aircrew (Wireless School). These candidates will be posted following training and outfitting to a Wireless School. The third division is Aircrew (Air Gunner). These men are Air Gunners and proceed to a Bombing and Gunnery School.

The new set up means that now, lack of formal education is not a bar to enlistment for aircrew duties, for there is a classification to fit all who have ordinary public schooling, provided they prove themselves suitable in

FOR YOUR HEALTH BOOK

Here are some attractive suggestions about keeping Dad well nourished and pleasing his palate even though war work may force him to take his lunch on the job. He can't be a good war worker unless he's well fed, especially at lunch time, according to food experts. What follows has been endorsed by leading dietary experts, including Dr. E. W. McHenry, chairman of the Nutrition Division of the Health League of Canada.

Invigorating Sandwiches:

- Minced beef with salad dressing.
- Peanut butter with lettuce and marmalade or jam.
- Minced liver with salad dressing.
- Salmon loaf with salad dressing.
- Chopped egg with salad dressing.
- Grated cheese with salad dressing.
- Cabbage and carrot salad with salad dressing.
- Grated cheese and peanut butter with salad dressing.
- Mashed baked beans with catsup.
- Cottage cheese with marmalade.
- A fruit paste made from raisins or dates.

(Confidential P.S.—Spread the fillings thick and don't hold back on the butter—and spread a little wheat germ on peanut butter sandwiches: he won't notice it and it'll do him good. Wheat germ has the "Z" or "Zip" vitamin.)

Fruit—Oranges, apples, prunes, dried apricots, or any fruit you have handy. Put in lots of it.

Vegetables—Raw carrots, crisp and clean, prevent night blindness. Or celery if you can't sell him on carrots.

Milk—At least a half pint in a handy container.

Nicknack—End on a high note with something he really goes for, such as a piece of cake or a slab of pie.
